This site is not available in your country In color, the word shade is used to reference how dark the color is. For example, hunter is a shade of green. Shades are derived from a combination of hue and black. Contrast with tint. Recommended Reading: Webopedia's The Science of Color and the Digital Camera Quick Reference. Media Platforms Design TeamLast week, a sexy teaser promised us a brand-new Fifty Shades of Grey trailer during tonight's episode of Scandal. So naturally, we (and every woman everywhere) tuned in. Check out the brand new preview below: Well that was worth waiting for! Looks like this trailer delves a little bit more into the emotional parts of their relationship, rather than just what goes on in the red room (though, we wouldn't mind a little more of that, too). So, anyone else counting down the days until Valentine's Day 2015? More from Women's Health: 7 Things Jamie Dornan Revealed About Fifty Shades of Grey Watch the First Official Fifty Shades of Grey Trailer How Fifty Shades of Grey Changed Your Sex Life Watch Next Ever since it was announced that E.L. James's kinky novel was going to be adapted for the big screen, readers have anxiously been wondering how the explicit S&M love affair between a virginal college student and a spank-happy Seattle billionaire might work as a movie. Could two somewhat unknown actors—Dakota Johnson and Jamie Dornan—possibly do justice to the tortured complexities of Anastasia Steele and Christian Grey? Could any director take Anastasia's colorful interior monologue (i.e., "He's my very own Christian Grey-flavored popsicle.") and convey that same intensity with nothing but a camera? Having carefully studied Fifty Shades of Grey we can report that the answers to those two questions are "yes" and "thank God not." Indeed, the film, movie sex scenes and all, proved to be quite the educational experience. Here are 10 things we learned in the two hours we spent with the world's most breathlessly beloved BDSM couple. Adorably miniature. And cheekily named. In other words, they have all the makings of a beauty must-have. No surprise, then, that these Tom Ford lipsticks were dreamed up by the man who basically invented the cross-section of desire and commerce. The collection itself is called Lips and Boys, and it is a quite robust group of 50 lipsticks, 36 of which are new shades. Each has a TF-stamped bullet and petite black-and-gold case Ford has called "clutch-sized." Most notably, each one is named for a different man in Mr. Ford's life. There's Holden, Beau, Orlando, all pale nudes; Leonardo, Didier, Wes, plummy burgundies; and Olivier, Julian, Pablo, all various shades of pink. His partner Richard Buckley gets a tonal taupe, and his son Alexander gets two shades: a retro pink and a poppy purple that gives a nod to his nickname, Jack. The lipsticks will go on sale from Black Friday through Cyber Monday on tomford.com. They will also be available on department store e-commerce sites on Cyber Monday. And, post-Christmas, they will be available again for 8 weeks, beginning on December 26, in stores. $32 each, tomford.com Watch Next Advertisement Advertisement Advertisement The steamy novel "Fifty Shades of Grey" and its sequels, "Fifty Shades Darker" and "Fifty Shades Freed," became major pieces of pop culture around the time of their publication. The three books held the top three spots on best-seller lists for much of their debut year and have inspired parodies and knock-offs. You may have heard the "Fifty Shades" trilogy be described as "Twilight" for adults or "pornography for moms" and questioned what the books are really about. Here is a brief overview of the first book, "Fifty Shades of Grey," to help you understand what's on everybody's minds. E.L. James originally wrote "Fifty Shades" as a series of episodes on a "Twilight" fan website; she titled it "Master of the Universe." Appropriately, the main characters were originally named Edward and Bella, and the story took place in Seattle, which is close to the location of the "Twilight" books. After readers raised concerns about the sexual nature of the content, James removed the story from the fan site and posted it on her own website. "Fifty Shades of Grey" is the story of a 21-year-old college student, Anastasia, who begins a relationship with a 27-year-old successful, powerful businessman named Christian Grey. They meet when she interviews him for her college newspaper. When they later meet up in Portland, Oregon, he rescues her after she over-imbibes, which results in her chastely spending the night in his Heathman Hotel room. Christian is intrigued by her and offers her a non-disclosure agreement and contract that establishes their exclusively sexual relationship and defines it as one of "dominance and submission." She doesn't sign the agreement but does lose her virginity to him. Further scenes in the book introduce his lavish lifestyle with astonishing Seattle apartment, personal helicopter, and chauffeur. But there is also tension with an older woman who first introduced Christian to BDSM, as well as allusions to a former girlfriend who figures in the later books. Ana eventually meets Christian's parents and the reader is also introduced to Ana's mother and stepfather. The novel plays on tension over the nature of their relationship and the possibility of romance and love, as well as Ana's explorations in Christian's darker tastes in sexuality. Christian wants to have control, likely related to the physical and mental scars he bears from child abuse. However, he is likely as seduced by emotion for her as she is enticed by both sexual explorations and romance for him. "Fifty Shades of Grey" fits into the genre of erotica, and the plot and characterizations rely heavily on sexual content. Still, it has gained mainstream popularity rather than remaining genre fiction. Many credit the advent of e-readers for allowing women to read books without others knowing what they are reading. We have five whole months until the world is #blessed with the Fifty Shades of Grey sequel, Fifty Shades Darker. But fear not, my friends, there's something to tide us over until the release of the sexy, steamy movie (besides watching that hot trailer on repeat): the first official Fifty Shades lingerie collection. London lingerie brand Coco de Mer partnered with Fifty Shades author E.L. James to create the seductive collection, called Fifty Shades Darker by Coco de Mer. And it's equal parts sexy and sophisticated. In a press release, author James said she actually visited the Coco de Mer store for inspiration while writing the books. "...I visited the boutique in Covent Garden [in London] as part of my research," James said in the press release. "Fifty Shades Darker lingerie really captures Ana's sexual awakening. It is luxurious, deeply provocative, and elegantly erotic." It's a pretty brilliant marketing move by the Fifty Shades team, which also created a Fifty Shades makeup collection for the last film. This content can also be viewed on the site it originates from. The collection features six lines: Red Room, Escala, Masquerade, Goddess, Steele, and Anastasia. Apparently, the different lines represent Anastasia's journey to becoming more dominant in her relationship with Mr. Grey. So far, Coco de Mer has only "unlocked" the Red Room and Escala lines, with the others "coming soon." The Red Room offerings include a sexy halterneck bra and a "spanking playsuit," all designed with red lace, of course. The line was inspired by the "sensual promise of Mr. Grey's notorious BDSM boudoir." Coco de Mer also sells toys for bondage play, if you really want to recreate the magic of the Red Room. Personally, I'm more a fan of the Escala line, which is inspired by Grey's "opulent Seattle penthouse." The designs are black and white and very sophisticated. Basically, we can now all channel our inner Anastasia Steele—whether it's for our own personal Mr. Grey or just to feel sexy for ourselves. Pro tip: Put on that hot song from the first Fifty Shades movie by The Weeknd to really get things going. View more images from the collection below, available on Coco de Mer's website. Pieces retail from £15 to £60, which is about $20 to $80. Bras are available in sizes 32B through 36D.
